★★ GENERAL LAND OFFICE
PRESERVATION AND EDUCATION PROGRAM

Many of the documents housed in the Texas General Land Office Archives are crumbling due to early storage conditions, continuous use and age. The Save Texas History™ program was created by Land Commissioner Jerry Patterson in 2004 to conserve and improve access to the historic maps and documents in the Archives, while promoting the study of Texas history.

CONSERVATION

The conservation process is a delicate and time-consuming one. It includes removal of surface dirt, water baths, deacidification, flattening, mending tears, reducing stains, removing old repair materials such as tape and varnish, and replacing old backings with special Japanese Kozo paper.

PRESERVATION

The Land Office strives to improve access to the history contained in the Archives by preserving documents in digital format. The Digital Preservation Project is a Land Office initiative to scan its entire archive for safekeeping and accessibility via the Internet. More than 180,868 maps and documents, representing more than 2.4 million digital images, have been scanned at high resolution and are available online in a searchable catalog.

OUR MISSION

- ★ Preserve and promote the historic maps and documents of the Texas General Land Office Archives.
- ★ Educate all Texans about our colorful past.
- ★ Serve as a teaching resource and provide tools for the study of Texas history.
- ★ Develop corporate and private partnerships.

THE TEXAS GENERAL LAND OFFICE ARCHIVES

A Home for History

One of the earliest tasks faced by Sam Houston as president of the Republic of Texas was gathering land records to define the newly formed nation. By act of the first Texas Congress, President Houston created the General Land Office and ordered its first commissioner, John Borden, to travel the countryside collecting every record related to Texas land. These documents would be used to develop a system for distributing public land. From original land grants, to Stephen F. Austin's field notes, Borden's acquisitions grew to become the Archives of the Texas General Land Office.

Today, the Archives continues to serve as a home for the history of Texas land, housing over 35 million documents—some dating back to Spanish rule. Not only do these documents support the land records for early settlers, they chronicle the passage of Texas public land to private ownership and form the legal foundation for virtually every private land title in Texas.

Due to the exceptional historical value of these records, Land Office documents are securely housed in our Austin headquarters in state-of-the-art vaults with controlled lighting, temperature and humidity and fire suppression systems.

Our archival holdings belong to the people of Texas and are accessed daily by genealogists, historians, archeologists, surveyors and anyone interested in Texas history. Each year, thousands of schoolchildren and citizens tour the Archives to see these treasures of Texas history up close.

IT'S IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER NO GENERAL REVENUE MONEY IS USED FOR CONSERVATION.
The future of these historic documents depends upon the generosity of the public. Please do your part to Save Texas History. Contributions to the Save Texas History program may be tax-deductible.

FELLOW TEXANS ...

The history of Texas is what sets Texans apart and makes us who we are. It lengthens our stride and swells our hearts with pride. It gives us courage to accomplish great things. Our unique history proves Texas is a special place, with a story like no other.

But part of that history is in danger of being lost forever. The maps and documents of the Texas General Land Office Archives are under siege by the forces of age and use, and they cannot continue the fight without our help. Right now, invaluable historic maps of Texas are disintegrating. Historic documents bearing the original signatures of Jim Bowie, William B. Travis, Stephen F. Austin and other Texas heroes are becoming dangerously brittle. Without proper care, these Texas treasures could become inaccessible to future generations of Texans.

The General Land Office's Save Texas History campaign is a unique public/private partnership to allow Texans an opportunity to help stop the damaging effects of time. Corporations, organizations, schools and individual Texans can make a financial contribution to pay for the professional conservation and preservation of these documents.

I hope you enjoy the 2012 Save Texas History calendar. Let it serve as a reminder that we have a rich heritage in Texas that lives with us every day. Let it remind us that some things are worth saving.

Thanks for your interest. I hope you will stand your ground and help Save Texas History.

TEXAS GENERAL LAND OFFICE

Karl Wilhelm Pressler's Map of the State of Texas, dated November 18, 1857, lists 117 Texas counties and Magoffinsville as the county seat of El Paso County. The General Land Office seal highlights the state's agriculture industry, without the familiar Land Office buffalo.

TYLER COUNTY ★ 1858

Drawn and compiled by Prof. Conrad C. Stremme, this Tyler County map is a best seller because of its elaborate cartouche with climbing children, grapevines and spider webs. In addition to being an excellent Land Office draftsman, Stremme was an accomplished engineer and designed the Old General Land Office Building which has stood in Austin since 1856.

ROBERTS COUNTY ★ 1889

This map features the towns of Miami, Concord and Parnell and the Southern Kansas Railroad. Roberts County was named for John S. Roberts, a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence, and Oran Milo Roberts, the 17th Texas governor. During his tenure, Governor Roberts developed plans to fund public schools through public land sales and served as first president of the Texas State Historical Association.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

This Week in Texas History is a 60-second, weekly radio feature—professionally produced by the Save Texas History program—that brings to life little-known episodes in the story of Texas.

Narrator Ben Thomson's Texas twang makes these stories sound like they're being told around a campfire. From political scandals, war heroes, heat waves and hurricanes to shootouts, rivalries, boom towns and barons—these are The Stories that Made Texas Great!™

This Week in Texas History airs on radio affiliates across Texas. Dates and times vary, so check your local listings. The award-winning radio program is also available for broadcast sponsorship by organizations interested in sharing the stories of our rich heritage with future generations.

ANNUAL HISTORY SYMPOSIUM

The Save Texas History Symposium is an annual event that highlights a unique chapter in the story of Texas, as illustrated by the Texas General Land Office Archives. Appealing to all, from amateur history buffs to academics, the Symposium features presentations by respected historians, hands-on activities and exhibits, workshops and VIP tours of the historic Archives.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Frameable maps, posters and other collectibles from the Texas General Land Office Save Texas History™ program make perfect gifts for the history enthusiasts in your life! All proceeds generated from Save Texas History collectibles benefit the Save Texas History program.

BUY A MAP REPRODUCTION

The Texas General Land Office Archives is home to thousands of historic maps, some dating back to before the Texas Revolution of 1836. Many are more than just functional—they are works of art. Men like O. Henry, William Pressler and Conrad Stremme toiled over hand-drawn maps, transforming surveys and field notes into designs of exacting detail and beauty. They knew they weren't just mapping Texas, they were making history. Now you can bring home a piece of this history when you purchase a collectible map from Save Texas History. All maps are printed on heavy bond, acid-free paper with UV resistant ink to prevent fading. Log on to savetexashistory.org to browse our searchable map database. PLEASE NOTE: The appearance of the maps represented in this calendar may differ slightly from a reproduction map as purchased from the Archives. Please view actual maps online before purchasing.
